ABOUT KILLARNEY

People have been visiting Killarney, in the ancient Kingdom of Kerry, for over 250 years. They come for the legendary beauty: the lakes, waterfalls, mountain peaks and heart-stopping views. They come for the 'craic' (good times and the banter), the pubs, live music, and easy Irish charm. Queen Victoria visited and fell in love with it. Poets and songwriters have waxed lyrical about it. It's known as "the home of the traditional Irish welcome" because this is where Irish tourism began.

The town is on the northeast shore of the largest of the three Lakes of Killarney – Lough Leane, where medieval monks of Inisfallen recorded the earliest history of Ireland.

Astounding national beauty is found in Ireland's first great National Park, Killarney National Park, where Na Crucha Dubha, the country's highest mountains, surround three gorgeous glacial lakes. Ireland's only herd of native red deer roam wild here in ancient woods of oak and yew. Rare white-tailed sea eagles drift overhead.

Traditional horse-drawn jaunting cars, with their drivers known as "jarveys", wait in town to take visitors into the National Park. Take a jaunting car through the hauntingly beautiful mountain pass, the Gap of Dunloe. The boat trip across the three lakes is a magical experience.

Back in town, the streets are a hive of activity, full of life ... Irish through and through.
